

Musical Reflections Of Songs By Black Musicians From As Early As The 1920s

Black musicians had a MASSIVE influence on the industry from as early as the 1920s! With that being said, they produced a ton of hits that were, and are, well-worth listening to! I had a few spare days on my hands, so I decided to do a ton of research and reflecting with regards to the black music from the 1920s to the 1970s. I dug up over 100 songs that were sung by black musicians, and listened to them. After listening to each of them, I wrote a brief reflection, and recorded the details of the song (artist, peak chart position, record label, year of release, etc.). This ebook is a complete detailed report of all of the songs that I had listened to, the associated reflections, and all of the details that belonged to each song.
